

NATHAN JAFFA REFUTES THE STATEMENT THAT HE IS NOT SUPPORTING THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 23.—"I have been somewhat embarrassed and considerably annoyed by reports that have reached me to the effect that I was disappointed and disgruntled over not having received the nomination for governor on the republican state ticket," said Nathan Jaffa, territorial secretary, today. "I understand that it is being said in some sections, particularly my home town of Roswell, that I am a passive participant in this campaign and that I am not actively taking part in it. In other words, it is reported, that I am not supporting H. O. Bursum for governor and that I am not greatly concerned whether he is elected or not. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"I want to state right here that I am actively and openly supporting H. O. Bursum and the straight republican ticket. I was at no time an active candidate for the nomination of governor on the republican state ticket. I was willing and ready to accept that nomination, had it been offered to me, and that far and no further was I a candidate.

"H. O. Bursum or any other republican had a right to that nomination and I am supporting him as a loyal republican because he was the choice of that convention and as I would expect him to have supported me, had I been the nominee. And furthermore, I know well, that had I been the nominee, Mr. Bursum would have supported me as I am now supporting him, actively, openly and loyally.

"For the information of my friends and the citizens of New Mexico, I desire to state that when I found out the sentiment of the delegates in the Las Vegas convention, as a good republican and a man who has the welfare and future of New Mexico at heart, I decided not to allow my name to be brought before that convention, but withdrew absolutely from the race for the nomination and did so voluntarily and with the best of feeling toward all the men in that convention and in the party.

"Naturally, therefore, I resent any attempt to put me in the light of believingly supporting the republican ticket, the republican party and the republican platform from top to bottom.

"This undercurrent of talk for political effect, that I was not treated right by the party, that I was traded off, is a lot of rot. I am standing as I always have stood, for the republican party and its nominees and principles. The republican party has honored me repeatedly, and that same convention at Las Vegas, I know from my talks with many of the delegates, would have placed me on the ticket in any one of several positions, had I but said the word. I was not seeking office, and I told my friends so, very plainly.

"I want to say to my friends in New Mexico that I believe the ticket nominated by the Las Vegas convention is a good one and that by contrast with the democratic state ticket, it is in many respects, far superior.

"I believe that the success of the republican party and the organization of the first state government under republican regime are absolutely necessary for prosperity and development, which have been so manifest under republican administration in the past, and hence I am supporting the straight republican ticket and every man, individually and collectively, thereon. I have told my friends whom I have met from time to time, my attitude in this election and I am surprised, indeed, that knowing my sentiments as they must have known them, any one would undertake to circulate for political effect, any statements that I was not now, as in the past, loyally standing by the republican party and its ticket. Were I not doing so with heart and soul, I would indeed be a poor citizen to be holding a place on the executive committee of the republican state committee, a position I now hold as a representative of the southeastern counties."

Blobbs—"Do you think it is bad luck to walk under a ladder?" Slobbs—"Not half such bad luck as to fall off one."

NEW YORK TOPICS.

New York, October 23.—The little town of Hackensack, on the New Jersey side of the Hudson, was the scene of an interesting ceremony the other day, when a tablet was presented to the First Reformed church of Hackensack bearing the names of 16 pastors who have served it since its organization in 1686. The presentation was the principal feature of the celebration of the two hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the church. Until a hundred years ago pastors for this church were sent from Holland and the sermons were preached in the Dutch language and even up to date all pastors of the church have been of Dutch descent. Even the weathercock on the spire was brought from Holland. Upon the occasion of the anniversary celebration silver medals were presented to a number of descendants of former pastors and to the infant son of the present pastor.

Even the most hard-boiled anti-suffragist must admit that Mrs. Oliver H. Belmont, the wealthy New York society woman who has taken up the woman's suffrage cause as a mere amusement, but became so deeply interested in her plaything that she has thoroughly identified herself with it is a woman of great energy and of original ideas. It was her money that founded and maintained the Political Equality headquarters on East Forty-first street, where the advocates of woman's suffrage are in the habit of congregating. Being wealthy and a society woman Mrs. Belmont is quite fastidious in her tastes and extremely particular as to cleanliness and careful grooming. The manner in which many of the suffragettes—by far the greater number of them—neglect their personal appearance was a shock to Mrs. Belmont and, with the energy so characteristic of her, she decided to make an effort toward remedying that shocking state of things. She decided to establish at the suffragists' headquarters what might be called a "beauty parlor" or "beauty repair shop." She arranged the disgruntled and of not being act- with a number of women doctors and beauty specialists to deliver lectures at the headquarters several days in the week, teaching the suffragettes the first elements of hygiene and suggesting to them how to take proper care of their complexion, hair, teeth, etc. Mrs. Belmont was also decided to lay in a stock of toilet soaps, powders, creams and other beauty remedies, which will be sold at prices slightly above cost to the suffragette attending the lectures at headquarters. The doctors and beauty specialists will give free treatment to the suffragettes and it is expected that the "beauty parlor" will attract many hundreds of girls to the Political Equality parlors.
